in cleft palate cases

During the afternoon D^r Tzebbes demonstrated his operation for cleft palates the special feature of which was the conservation of all tissue. He makes a special feature of rejoining the lip first and tends to leave the palate till an other operation.

In rejoining the lip no tissue is removed but the parts are brought together by suturing of carefully designed flaps of mucous membrane, care being taken to avoid raw surfaces uncovered by epithelial tissue. Dr. Tjebbes has promised a paper on this operation.

Sept 6 A visit was made to the Dentist school the members being struck with the fact that great stress was placed on conservation of teeth with and without pulps. Oral repair is not regarded with as great horror as in Britain. Later in the morning Mr. Hardey showed his film on cleft palates and Dr. Tjebbes answered questions.
