The Spring Meeting of the OSCGB, held under the presidency of Iain McVicar, was kindly hosted by Professor Moni Kuriakose at the Mazumdar Shaw Cancer Center at the Narayana Health City Bangalore. Professor Kuriakose is the Senior Consultant and Director of Surgical Oncology. Narayana Health has 21 such healthcare facilities throughout India.

The meeting was attended by six members and three partners. All but one had attended the International Association of Oral Oncology meeting which was held in Bangalore the previous week. We stayed at the nearby Crown Plaza Hotel electronic City which is at the south of Bangalore about one hours travelling from the center.

On the first morning of the meeting we met Dr Paul Salins the medical director and Dr Devi Shetty a cardiac surgeon and Chairman of Narayana Health. We had a tour of part of the facility starting with a visit to the Paediatric Cardiac Surgery department where over 3000 operations are performed each year, we visited the Paediatric Cardiac Intensive care which occupied two floors.

In the afternoon we went to the Mazumdar Shaw Center for Translational Research and after lunch heard various lectures on Head & Neck cancer management and in the evening we entertained our hosts to dinner in our hotel.

The following day we went to theatre where two major head & neck cases were performed and in the evening we travelled into Bangalore to the Rangadone Memorial Hospital where we had a joint meeting with the Bangalore Maxillofacial Study Group with some lectures including a presentation by Andrew Lyons. Later we had dinner with our hosts at the President Hotel.
